Brief Program Descriptions

B-HIPP (Maryland Behavioral Health Integration in Pediatric Primary Care)

Maryland Behavioral Health Integration in Pediatric Primary Care (B-HIPP) aims to support the efforts primary care providers (PCP), including pediatricians, family physicians, nurse practitioners and physician's assistants, in assessing and managing mental health concerns in their patients from infancy through the transition to young-adulthood. B-HIPP provides 1) phone consultation service between PCPs and child mental health specialists; 2) continuing education for PCPs to build their skills; 3) referral & resource networking by increasing linkages between PCPs and other community-based services; 4) social work co-location pilot in Salisbury placing social work interns in four pediatric practices.

Catastrophic Illness in Children Relief Fund

Catastrophic Illness in Children Relief Fund is a financial assistance program for families whose children have an illness or condition otherwise uncovered by insurance, State or Federal programs, or other source, such as fundraising. The Fund is intended to assist in preserving a family's ability to cope with the responsibilities which accompany a child's significant health problems. Currently two states (NJ & MA) have such plans.

Children's Developmental Clinic

The Children's Developmental Clinic is for children birth through twelve years of age who are experiencing a delay or disability in the following: gross and fine motor development, receptive and expressive language, reading development and social skills. The Children's Developmental Clinic provides services for children in the areas of motor, language, reading and social skills. A nine week session is available during the fall and spring semesters at Prince George's Community College (PGCC) and the University of Maryland. A five week summer session is also available at PGCC. Parent education is a requirement of the program. Fees are included. The Community College of Baltimore County (CCBC) also has a clinic.

Family-Led Policy Influence

Family-Led Policy Influence refers to a grassroots, family-led advocacy network that focuses on policy issues such as adequate insurance and financing for children with ASD or other DD. Ideas include hiring a policy coordinator to build a "policy influence" infrastructure for CYSHCN issues in Maryland. Main functions would be to facilitate the training of families to be comfortable meeting with legislators; make sure families have meetings with their legislators; track these meetings, get information out to families when specific legislation is being considered that would impact CYSHCN, mobilize those families and support families contact their legislators about specific legislation. Maryland Health Leaders sponsored by Parents' Place is such a network that could be expanded. Goals include to: 1) Educate legislators & regulatory agency on the costs incurred by families with children with special health care needs & the effects of lower reimbursement rates on the availability of service providers; and 2) Include families of CYSHCN on decision-making bodies charged with determining levels of mandatory coverage of CYSHCN.

Health Enterprise Zone (HEZ) in Lexington Park, St. Mary's County

HEZs are designed to reduce health disparities among Maryland's racial and ethnic groups and between geographic areas, improve health care access and health outcomes, and reduce health care costs by providing a variety of incentives to defined geographic areas with high rates of disparities.

MedStar St. Mary's Hospital, Greater Lexington Park proposal includes a new community health care center and five new primary care practitioners, one psychiatrist and two licensed social workers in the zone. The plan also includes the development of a health care transportation route to address barriers to accessing health care in this rural area of the state.

Maggie's Light Foundation

Maggie's Light Foundation is a Maryland non-profit organization which supports Maryland families, caring for their children and young adults with special needs. Their primary focus is respite care.

Medicaid Buy-In

A Medicaid Buy-In program allows families of children with special needs to 'buy-in' to Medicaid coverage for a child even though they don't financially qualify. Five states currently have this option for families of CSHCN.

Medical Home

A family-centered Medical Home is not a building, house, hospital, or home healthcare service, but rather an approach to providing comprehensive primary care. In a family-centered medical home the pediatric care team works in partnership with a child and a child's family to assure that all of the medical and non-medical needs of the patient are met. Maryland began a 3-year program, the Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH), to test this new model of care in 2011, with 52 primary and multispecialty practices and federally-qualified health centers (FQHCs) located across the state.

Multi-Disciplinary Clinic

A Multi-Disciplinary Clinic offers families an opportunity to see many different providers in one place at one time for multidisciplinary team evaluations or services.

Provider Training

Brief Program Descriptions and Glossary of Abbreviations – Maryland Autism and Other Developmental Disabilities Planning Grant 2013 Meetings

Provider Training involves training primary care providers; allied health/habilitative services providers (OT, PT, Speech, etc); school teachers, staff, and administrators; child care and respite care providers on: 1) how to best meet the needs of children with ASD/DD and their families; and 2) medical billing and coding.

Regional Hub

A Regional Hub is a central point for assistance in accessing services, information, and resources.
